

TAKE FLIGHT TOWARD A CURE

Wings of Courage is an international skydiving event taking place on Monday, August 11, 2025, dedicated to raising critical funds for Epidermolysis Bullosa (EB) awareness and research — a devastating genetic skin condition often referred to as "the worst disease you've never heard of."

The date holds special meaning, as it marks the anniversary of the passing of Caroline Georgia, a courageous nine-month-old who bravely lived with EB and whose strength and spirit continue to inspire our mission. Wings of Courage is held in honor of her and all EB warriors, reinforcing our commitment to raise awareness, support affected families, and advance research toward a cure.

Through Wings of Courage, we honor the Butterfly Effect — the idea that even the smallest actions, like a single jump or a single life, can create ripples of extraordinary impact.

With your partnership, we can soar higher, together.
